The Annual visiting report was given and Mrs. D. Prentice has certainly been busy with 320 cards having been sent out the past year.

The Dresden Plate Quilt is ready and tickets were given out to the members. This is a beautiful Quilt and the ladies deserve much credit for their achievement.

It was decided to purchase a strong box for the minute books of the past and to ask if this box could be placed in the Library as the Tweedsmuir Books

ART EXHIBITON TO BE HELD HERE

With the co-operation of Sir Sandford Fleming College, your Haliburton Highlands Guild of Fine Arts, is pleased to bring to the residents of this area, an Exhibition of Prints, Drawings, and Water Colours, by the well-known Artist, Mary Schneider.

This Exhibition was in the Cobourg Art Gallery, during February and March, at Sir Sandford Fleming College during April, and from May 7th, to 20th, will be at the Highland Crest Senior Citizens Home, Minden.

Mary Schneider has had a varied and sometimes difficult life, yet has met its challenges and has responded with a resilient and indefatigable spirit.

She and her husband were actively engaged as artists in Poland until the outbreak of World War 11 — they were arrested in 1939 and spent two years in Russian Detention camps in Siberia. In 1945 they went to Beirut, Lebanon, and spent five happy years in this warm, sunny climate. Mary painted extensively during this period, mainly in oils, and is represented in collections throughout the land.

Mary and Roman Schneider arrived in Canada in 1950, and joined the staff of Acadia University. Later they moved to Toronto and became involved in many areas of art work. Mary was an instructor for nine years at the Madoc Art Centre. In 1963 the Schneider School of Fine Arts was established in Actinolite. Today, she is still a Director of the School.

In 1967, Mary produced a print of the old, and the new, Toronto City Hall. The first print of this edition hangs in the office of the Mayor of the City of Toronto.

Mary is proud of the rich heritage of her native land and yet is prouder still to be a citizen of Canada. She feels that "Canada is truly a democratic country", and counts among her friends many prominent Canadians.

I have a problem and possibly some of my readers may be able to help me. As most of you know I live in a log house, hand hewn square pine logs. The house is some hundred - plus years old and is a historic site. Now, here's my problem, I need two square logs some 20 to 25 feet long with faces from a foot and a half up.

So, here's a good chance to help save about the only historical link between the past and the present and, not only that help me keep my house from caving in around my head.

If you have a clue where there is anything I could use please let me know — my good friend Vic Martin is engineering the job so, a word to him is just as good as telling me. Anything you can come up with will be appreciated.

Congratulations to Ted Campbell on his appointment as General Manager to African Safari of America Inc. This appointment was not unexpected and I'm sure that Ted will do as good a job for the Safari Co., as he did for the Minden Chamber of Commerce while he was here. This is the way of life, a small community gets a good man with ability and he very quickly outgrows us. It's to be hoped Ted won't forget us and as he wanders among the many animals under his guidance he will think of us once in awhile.

Three characters went by the house the other day hitch-hiking their way to somewhere and they reminded me of a Limerick I had heard once.

There once were three fellows from Gary;

Named Larry and Harry and Barry;

Now Harry was bare

As an egg or a pear,

But Larry and Barry were hairy.

It just fit these guys to a "T".

By the height of the water along the river it's a good thing "Sig" issued life belts to his workers.

I've been looking for "Bill" Scott our genial Member in Ottawa for some time now but things must be hopping 'cause I hardly ever see his car around Kinmount. Ah well, he'll show up one of these days and I'll catch him.

During a coffee break in the K & W Restaurant the other day we had quite a discussion on "gratitude" and it's few side effects. I'll tell you about it next week when I have more space.

Like many others I'm in the process of reading the "Godfather" — Gad, what a way of life or a way to live, or die mostly, according to the book. Read it and be thankful we are able to live a nice, quiet, orderly existence.

That's it for another week. Drive carefully, at least up here we have the choice of living or dying on our Highways by our own choice — not having it planned for us. Until next week, think about this — "75 per cent of all marriage rehearsals are NOT held in churches."

THE HOOKED GENERATION

More and more young women are getting hooked on cigarettes. At earlier and earlier ages.

In 1970, the percentage of girls in the 12 to 18 bracket who smoked had shot up to 11 percent, 3 full points higher than in 1968. And the sharpest increases were at very young ages 13, 14 and 15.

Why?

A recent article in Seventeen called "Beating the Cigarette Habit," interviewed teenagers in-depth. One teenager who had started smoking at 15 said, "You think it's neat, cool, older-looking, decadent, so you have to smoke, too," she explained. "My first boy friend smoked, and I learned from him." Surveys show that teenage girls rarely buy their own first pack of cigarettes. They are almost always offered to them or even urged upon them.

The social pressure to smoke is strong in many young circles. How one comes across to others is uppermost. One 15 year old said, "Smoking is an activity that affects everything you do socially. If a stranger sees you smoking he gets a completely different impression of you than if you're not smoking. It's not good for you but it makes you 'dangerous.' Nowadays almost everyone knows smoking is bad for you. But girls really need that chance to show they're tough and not afraid of the world."

Trying to look cool is one big reason for teenage smoking. But, more surprisingly, so is parental example. Several studies show that girls tend to follow their mothers' smoking behavior and disregard their fathers'. Between 1955 and 1970, the rates for women smokers increased; the rates for men actually declined.

Changing the swinging, cool image of the smoker — created by billions of advertising dollars over decades — is no simple assignment. But your local tuberculosis and respiratory disease association is trying. It's a matter of life and breath.

THINGS TO REMEMBER

The two Service Clubs in town have been active over the past few weeks, dreaming up projects and schemes to make money as well as spend it.

Kinsmen Club have come up with a great idea for Saturday, May 20th. On this date they will be holding Minden's first Beerfest, (to my knowledge anyway) in the Curling rink.

Kin Steven Berry informed me of this big event, and said the money raised will go towards their pledge for the new arena. The Beerfest starts at 7 p.m. and runs through till 1 a.m. Tickets will be available next week so make plans to attend this big evening.

The other Service Club in town, Rotary has been extremely busy over the past few weeks, with the River bank improvement project, Bingo, Easter Seal Campaign, and now plans are being made for the annual Rotary Carnival. Besides these activities plans are now final for the Minden Club to change their meeting location from the United Church to the Dominion Hotel. Besides all of these happenings, three new members will be installed soon, Jack Hewson, Hugh Holler and Bill O'Brien.

The dates for this years Carnival are set for Wednesday and Thursday, July 26 and 27. The Midway, games etc., will be set up at the Curling rink. Something new will be added this year, for those who like to drink and eat, a bar-b-que and Beer garden will be set up.

Keep these dates and happenings in mind — when you help Kinsmen and Rotary, you are helping everyone.

COLD, COLD WATER

Over the weekend I watched a couple of fishermen going out on the ice on snowshoes — all I have to say is it is risky business. Remember the water is extremely cold and a fish just isn't worth the risk.

Spring is here and inevitably, ice will clear from lakes and rivers and the fishing season will commence by boat. Those of us who are ardent fishermen look forward to getting a boat in the water and wetting a line, with such anticipation that we often ignore the hazards of the early boating season. I got my launch into the water on Saturday, and believe me the water is cold.

Noticing a report from the Ontario Safety League, they warn that cold water is a killer. Twenty-seven people drowned from boats in Ontario during April and May, 1971. Most of them were fishermen who capsized their boats or fell overboard. With water temperatures still in the thirties, a man overboard succumbs to cold and becomes immobilized in a very few minutes.

The answer to cold-water boating hazards is preventative measures. Utmost caution is required when moving about in a small boat on open water — use a crouching position with hands on the gunwales to maintain balance. Never stand up to cast or land a fish. Keep loads light — half normal capacity. Watch the weather. Confine boating to daylight hours — chance of survival in case of trouble after dark is greatly decreased. Be sure your boat and motor are in good condition; spring weather can make repairs afloat difficult. Check required safety equipment; two oars or two paddles, a bailing bucket and an approved lifejacket for each passenger. The warm weather is just starting, think and stay afloat, and enjoy the balance of the season.

NO EXTENSION OF MUSKRAT SEASON IN SOUTHERN ONTARIO

Because of apparent late break-up this year trappers and Wildlife Managers alike have been wondering about extending the muskrat trapping season in southern Ontario for a couple of weeks after the legal closing date of April 30, 1972.

Most rat trapping in Ontario is done just after the marshes thaw out. At this time muskrats move around a lot in search of food after the long hard winter months and are especially susceptible to trapping. Many trappers feel that there should be up to four weeks between break-up and the end of the rat season to allow them to take full advantage of ideal conditions.

The matter has been given careful consideration by staff in all eight districts of the southern region of the Ministry of Natural Resources and a decision arrived at.

No extension of the muskrat season will be made this year because it was felt the advantages to the trapper were outweighed by the following factors:

1. Larger than usual concentrations of waterfowl migrating northwards from southern wintering grounds are already occupying many marsh and shore areas on larger bodies of water, especially on the Great Lakes. As most trappers know muskrat traps can be a hazard for ducks.
2. An extension of the season would increase the danger in certain areas where waterfowl are congregating.
3. By no means are all the marshes in the region still frozen. Southern - most districts report no difficulties anticipated as far as rat trappers are concerned.
4. In the interests of enforcement and avoidance of confusion different closing dates for different areas have been ruled out.

Therefore, all muskrat trappers in the Lindsay District should be advised that the season will close on April 30, 1972, the normal date of closure in this part of the Province.

SPORTS CORNER

with CLIFF BURKE

Congratulations go out to Bud Anderson, for capturing the Dominion Hotel Shuffleboard Tournament. Second place went to Hugh Austen and third place, as well as perfect attendance goes to Wilf Ackerblade. The Banquet date will be published in this column possibly next week.

The Minden Ball registration Cards have been handed out at the Minden Public School and are to be returned by May 8th, 1972. Anyone else interested in playing, coaching or managing are asked to contact either Larry Scott at 286-1415 or Jim Shaw at 286-2554. Coaches and managers are desperately needed.

The Minor Ball Executive for this season is as follows: President, Al Greir; Vice President, Richard Parisotto; Secretary-Treasurer, Larry Scott; Directors are Dwight Thomas, Roy Bishop and Gerald Hicks.

Minden Minor Ball will operate in a County League this season with Haliburton and West Guilford. The best players off these teams will represent Haliburton County in the O.A.S.A. Playdowns. This will give ball not only to the beginners but provide excellent competition for the more experienced players as well.

Golf season is just around the corner, in fact it is only about three weeks away. Reading Al Greir's column last week and finding the Progress Open being played in the first two weeks of June instead of September was quite a shock. This time schedule will give very little practice time before the tournament gets under way, I hope the June dates were a misprint.

Winners of last weeks Dominion Hotel Shuffleboard tournament were Larry Kent and Kirk Taylor. Winners of the Rockcliffe Hotel tournament were Gerald Bull and Paul Warburton. The Dominion tournament is now concluded for the season after thirty great weeks of competition. The Rockcliffe tournament still has this Thursday night to play. The leaders going into the last week of this tournament are Gerald Bull, Paul Warburton, Doug Robinson and Phil Sawyer.

How about those New York Rangers eliminating the Chicago Black Hawks in four straight games, unbelievable. After all my terrible predictions in the quarter and semi-finals I do not wish to jinx the team, I wish to win in the final by predicting length of this series. Lets go RANGERS !!!

Another pleasant surprise in the early stages of the baseball season in the National league. Montreal Expos in first place 5 - 1. Its going to be a crazy year all round I'm affeared.

Hyland Ravans will be holding a ball practice at the Minden fairgrounds at 2 p.m. this Sunday afternoon. Any interested players are welcome to attend. Positions open are short, catcher and centre field. Players presently on the team are Pete Anderson 3rd base, Dwight Thomas 1st base, Bill Deverieux 2nd base, Doug Robinson left field, Ron Robinson right field, Barry Ward pitcher, Wayne Sawyer pitcher, Kim Hewitt pitcher, Eddie Cox, Paul Fleming Wayne Moxam, Kirk Hewitt, John Welch, Mike Harrison and Cliff Burke who would prefer to just coach. Hyland Ravan executive: Manager-Coach Cliff Burke, Assistant Coaches Bill Deverieux and Dwight Thomas; Treasurer Ron Robinson and Scorekeepers Bob Robinson and Brian Anderson. All the above players are asked to attend the Sunday practice and anyone else interested are welcome.

RAPID GROWTH AT SIR SANFORD COLLEGE

A draft report that will lead to a multi-year plan for Sir Sanford Fleming College shows that Sir Sandford has experienced an unusually high growth rate, which may be increased by future developments at its Cobourg and Lindsay campuses.

he report points out that Sir Sandford is the 12th largest of Ontario's 20 Colleges and last year had the eighth largest increase in enrolment. This was in spite of the fact that the 140,000 population it serves is about half that of most other Colleges.

In the course of the 1971-72 academic year, over 4,800 people from Haliburton, Peterboro, Victoria and western Northumberland counties will have taken at least one career-oriented course at Sir Sandford, which represents one in every 20 persons over 17 years of age living in the area.

In addition, about 1,000 more will have taken at least one general interest program there, and an additional 1,000 will have come to the College from outside its region.

The report notes that Sir Sandford has achieved a high degree of acceptance, and predicts the period of rapid growth now is over.

The Cobourg campus is named as one of three possible exceptions, however. Sir Sandford currently is offering post-secondary, retraining, and continuing education programs there, and if the region is developed to a population of 100,000 by 1980 as a satellite community for Toronto, the enrolment at that campus will expand accordingly.

A second possible exception is in the field of nursing education, which may become the responsibility of community colleges across the province.

Sir Sandford's natural resources in Lindsay could be another growth area, because it has the potential to develop programs of provincial scope.

DOLLARS AND GOOD SENSE

by William J. Martin

Mr. Martin serves as special consultant to Avco Financial Services. All questions should be sent to him at P.O. Box 5875, London Ontario, Canada. Those containing a name and address will be answered in this column or by direct return mail. No names will be used in print.

Dear Mr. Martin

My husband is going to be transferred to another city soon for about two or three years. We don't want to have to move into an apartment and are wondering if we should buy a home. Is it wise to buy a home when you know you'll be living in it only a short time?

Mrs. B.M.K.

Generally speaking, a home owner stands to lose money if a home is sold after just a year or two, but there are exceptions. With the proper planning you can live in your own home for this two to three year period and be able to sell without taking a loss on the transaction.

When looking for your new temporary home, you must consider many things in a different light than you would for a more permanent home. For instance, avoid buying a new home which requires finishing work, landscaping, carpeting, and so on. Try for a home in an established and settled area where you can move in and not have to spend a lot of money to get settled.

You must always be thinking of a potential home's resale value, of course. You may have to pick an area that is not the most convenient for your particular needs - that is, try to select a house near major employment locations and near schools and shopping areas. This may not be the best location for you but it will make the home easier to sell when the time comes. Also, buy a house of average value - a house within a medium price range. This will also make it easier to sell.

Be careful about financing, too. Try to put up only a minimum down payment and carry a large balance on your home. During your few years of ownership, you'll be paying practically pure interest on your loan, but once again, the high loan balance will make the house easier to sell. A new owner can more easily step in and assume your balance and payments without putting up a large amount of cash.

These are just a few hints at how you can help avoid losing money on a fast sale of your new home. With proper planning and care when you buy, you should be able to enjoy the advantages of living in your own home, and sell easily and quickly without taking a loss. You may even end up a winner.

The Scene returns to CBC, after a hiatus of a few weeks, on Saturday, April 19. Host Harry Brown and the production crew will travel across Canada the U.S. and Europe gathering material 'on the scene'. On this program, an interview with Norman Elder, noted art patron, who has just returned from a Latin American trip.

In the 1780s, the maritime provinces were flooded with history's first wave of American refugees, the beginning of a long troop of ideological opponents of the American dream. Among these first creators of a North American alternative to the U.S. was Jonathan Odell, doctor, administrator, Anglican priest, and eloquent satiric poet. He became the first provincial secretary of New Brunswick and one of the molders of Canada in its infancy. The Bush and The Salon, April 2.

Freelance broadcaster, Bill McNeil has travelled all over Canada in search of stories. His latest jaunt was through Northern Ontario in an attempt to find out what it's really like and why people live there. The friendliness, freedom, open space and lack of pollution are all valid reasons why the north holds such attractions and McNeil elaborates on these on Between Ourselves, Monday, May 1.

Soprano Carol Anne Curry recently gave a recital in London's Wigmore Hall, sponsored by the Cultural Attache's Office of the Canadian High Commission. It was one of a series of concerts at Wigmore Hall where such London debuts often spark an international career. Accompanied by Paul Hamburger at the piano, Miss Curry sang works by Hindemith, Debussy, Berg, Ravel and Walton. The concert will be heard on Part 1 of Musicscope, Thursday, May 4.

Two CBC Radio producers have been invited to attend an International Radio Play Conference in Frankfurt, Germany this month. They are John Reeves, radio arts, and Jim Anderson of the Ideas unit. The conference is organized by the European Broadcasting Union which is composed of western European broadcasting companies; the CBC is an associate member. Both producers are award winners-Reeves won the Italia Prize for his verse play, A Beach of Strangers, and Anderson won two Major Armstrong Awards last year for programs he produced for CBC-FM's Ideas.
